DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election of Group I in Paper No. 9 is acknowledged. Because applicant did not distinctly and specifically point out the supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election has been treated as an election without traverse (MPEP § 818.03(a)).

As a note, elected claim 38 is directed the "kit" of non-elected Group II. Therefore, the Examiner has withdrawn claim 38 from consideration. Furthermore, the dependency from "claim 5" is believed to be a typographical error.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claims 1-4, 6, 24 and 42 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Taylor.

As a note, the recitation that flexible wrap container is “for use in a washing machine” has not been given patentable weight because it has been held that a preamble is denied the effect of a limitation where the claim is drawn to a structure and the portion of the claim following the preamble is a self-contained description of the structure not depending for completeness upon the introductory clause. Kropa v. Robie, 88 USPQ 478 (CCPA 1951).

4. Claims 20-23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Wirth.

The recitation that flexible wrap container is “for use in a washing machine” has not been given patentable weight because it has been held that a preamble is denied the effect of a limitation where the claim is drawn to a structure and the portion of the claim following the preamble is a self-contained description of the structure not depending for completeness upon the introductory clause. Kropa v. Robie, 88 USPQ 478 (CCPA 1951).

5. Claims 1-5, 24 and 42 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being clearly anticipated by French et al.

The recitation that flexible wrap container is “for use in a washing machine” has not been given patentable weight because it has been held that a preamble is denied the effect of a limitation where the claim is drawn to a structure and the portion of the claim following the preamble is a self-contained description of the structure not depending for completeness upon the introductory clause. Kropa v. Robie, 88 USPQ 478 (CCPA 1951).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. Claims 7 and 25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Taylor or French et al.

Taylor and French et al. each disclose the claimed invention except for the flexible panel being constructed from a material selected from the group consisting of woven polyester, woven nylon or a combination thereof. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use material selected from the group consisting of woven polyester, woven nylon or a combination thereof to construct the flexible panel of Taylor or French et al., since it has been held to be within the general skill of a worker in the art to select a known material on the basis of its suitability for the intended use as a matter of obvious design choice. In re Leshin, 125 USPQ 416.

8. Claims 16-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Geysel.

Geysel discloses the claimed invention except for the strap 10 having a fastening device. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide the strap of Geysel with a fastening device since it was known in the art that fastening devices on straps facilitate securing the strap about the container.

9. Claims 16-19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over MacCormack et al.

MacCormack et al. discloses the claimed invention except for the strap 19 having a fastening device. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide the strap of Geysel with a fastening device since it was known in the art that fastening devices on straps facilitate securing the strap about the container.

Allowable Subject Matter

10. Claims 8 and 26 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

11. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
